

BIRMINGHAM-Congressman Spencer Bachus received the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) Award for Manufacturing Legislative Excellence today. The award recognizes Congressman Bachus' consistent support of American manufactures and their employees.

“Manufacturing continues to provide jobs for Americans and plays a key role in keeping our economy strong”, said Congressman Bachus. The award is given by the NAM, one of the nation's largest and most influential business groups, to senators and representatives based on their voting records on key legislation affecting the manufacturing community. Its recipients have shown support for a pro-growth, pro-manufacturing, pro-worker agenda.

Lee Syslinger, CEO of Altec, presented the award to Congressman Bachus. “On behalf of Altec and our employees, I thank Congressman Bachus for championing the causes that will help U.S. manufacturers thrive,” said Mr. Syslinger.
